

ARYA P

SOCIAL WORKER

Specialised in community development

I am a beginner in the field of social work. I believe as a social worker there are lots of things I could do for society. I have worked with different types of organisations and various projects implemented by them, which helped me to earn different experiences in many fields. I want to use these experiences for the upliftment of the communities who actually need the support.

I believe I can be a change maker if you give me an opportunity to work with you.
