PERSONAL STATEMENT

I am extremely passionate about the work I do and strive to keep myself updated and trained to render quality care to my patients. I love the interaction and rapport I share with my patients and colleagues. Being a team player with a great work ethic and a cheerful disposition. Having done three years of Oral pathology training in India I was able to gain a basic understanding of diseases, study the complex changes in disease pathology, and learned how to apply this knowledge. I constantly strive to learn and keep myself updated with regard to the newer developments. I enjoy the challenges which each day brings about and use them as a learning opportunity. People who know me describe me as calm and composed. Being a team player with a great work ethic and a cheerful disposition, I assure you that I will be a useful asset and a welcome member of your department.
