About Me

A dynamic anaesthesia specialist doctor who is passionate about ensuring patient safety as well as that of healthcare personnel, while prioritizing patient comfort and the best quality of care. Enthusiastic about resuscitation training programs, I utilize my free hours to train healthcare workers as well as lay public. I am an AHA (American Heart Association) certified instructor for BLS and ACLS training. A keen interest in patient-friendliness as well as in efficient running of healthcare systems motivated me to pursue an MBA in Operations & SCM. I was also able to contribute more than twenty chapters for an upcoming textbook for anaesthesia technicians, supposed to be launched by my earlier workplace. Currently, I am pursuing a one year clinical fellowship in Cancer Anaesthesia.
